Located along the shore of the South China Sea and within the Qianhai Gulf at the east of the Pearl River, Qianhai Shenzhen-Hong Kong Cooperation Zone is situated between the borders of Hong Kong and Macau with an area of 15 square kilometer. As we all know, bay area economy has always been associated with developed economic area: similar to the Hudson Bay in the United States, Tokyo Bay in Japan, River Thames in the United Kingdom and the Victoria Harbor in Hong Kong, Qianhai is also a wonderful bay full of potential for economic development.

On June 29th of this year, our State Council approved the policy that would allow Qianhai to implement policies that were even more unique than those that were implemented in the Special Economic Zone. This policy referred to areas ranging from financial innovation, tax benefit, legal environment, human resources, education, medical care to telecommunication. This helped create a more open and comprehensive policy supporting system for the development of modern service industry in Qianhai.

Hereby, Qianhai is opening its door to American corporations. We are aiming at serving you with more beneficial policies to help realize your quick business development in China even Asia. Join the conference of “Investing in QIANHAI” as it will bring you tremendous opportunities to invest in China.
